Why QPS matters

- Slab-based discounts that drive volume
- Scope by brand, category or specific SKUs

Build a QPS in four small steps

The screenshot shows the 'Create New Scheme' interface in the Qwipo Seller Management Platform. The interface is divided into a sidebar on the left and a main content area. The sidebar contains navigation links: Dashboard, My SKU, Customers, Offers & Schemes (highlighted), Orders, Settings, and Support. The main content area has a header 'Offers & Schemes' and a user profile 'Rajesh Kumar ABC Distributors'. Below the header is a progress bar with three steps: 1. Select Type (active), 2. Configure Details, and 3. Review & Publish. The 'Select Scheme Type' section displays a grid of ten scheme options, each with an icon, title, and description. The options are: QPS (Quantity-based price slabs with tiered discounts), Value Slab (Order value-based discount tiers), BOGO (Buy X quantity, get Y free units), Case Bonus (Extra cases free on bulk purchase), Off-Invoice (Flat discount applied on invoice total), Display Allowance (Incentive for in-store product display), Launch Incentive (Special pricing for new product launches), Loyalty Rebate (Cashback rebate for repeat purchases), Combo Bundle (Bundled products at discounted rate), and Early Payment (Discount for early invoice settlement). At the bottom of the grid are 'Cancel' and 'Next' buttons. The 'Next' button is highlighted in black.
